COMMUNICATION –A LIFE SKILL

A REPORT

English Literary Society 'Muse' in collaboration with IQAC, RKMV, organized a one-day workshop (for the teaching and non-teaching staff both) on Communication-A Life skill on 12th June 2024, from 10:15 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. in room no-12 of the college.

Dr. Anurita Saxena, the Principal and Sh. Prem Singh Negi, the Superintendent were the worthy resource persons of the day. After the formal welcome address by Dr. Reva Gupta (HOD, English), 1st of all the first issue of the college e-newsletter 'Elysium' was released by Dr. Anurita Saxena.

Thereafter, the workshop began with first session on 'Techniques for Effective Communication' by Dr. Anurita Saxena. Various effective communication techniques were discussed and demonstrated during the workshop including active listening strategies, verbal and non-verbal communication clarity in message delivery and polite way of saying 'NO'. She encouraged the participants to reflect on their strengths and weaknesses.

By giving examples from day to day life Dr. Anurita Saxena brought to the light the main components of effective communication such as love, respect, appreciation, saying sorry and having no ego. Communication challenges prevalent in this digital age were also addressed in the workshop.

To make the learning experience more engaging and interactive, and to reinforce communication skills the workshop incorporated fun games and exercises.

Sh. Prem Singh Negi (Superintendent) in session-II discussed the importance of official communication highlighting its purpose. Strategies involved to make official communication more effective are listed as below:

- Standard format
- Appropriate tone and language
- Necessary details
- Proof reading
- Maintaining confidentiality, when necessary
- Using proper channels.

He said that official communication is essential for maintaining transparency, confidentiality, productivity and professionalism within any institution or organization.

This session ended with a vote of thanks by Dr. M.L. Mankotia, coordinator of the workshop. After the tea break the Session-III- "Know Yourself for Better Communication" was once again taken up by Dr. Anurita Saxena. Very skillfully she told the audience that knowing yourself is essential for better communication as it helps to understand our:

- Emotions
- Strengths and Weaknesses
- Values and Beliefs
- Communication Style
- Biases and assumptions
- Personality traits

With reference to various animal's different personality traits were discussed e.g.

- Attack: Jackal - Clever & Opportunists
- Self-doubt: Hedgehog - Victim Syndrome
- Wait: Meerkat- Observant
- Detective types: Dolphin- Assertive but not aggressive
- Connect: Giraffe- Empathy, compassion

General truths like nothing is permanent, no person is perfect, love and compassion are the most important emotions, etc. were also highlighted.

Session-IV participants were engaged in different activities

Activity on "Expressing Yourself" was designed to build confidence in public speaking.

Different situational activities and videos not only invigorated the participants but also provided them with insight about the conditioned assumptions, stereotypes, judgmental behavior and the habit of giving unsolicited advice. The workshop successfully achieved its objective and received positive feedback. Session ended with vote of thanks and National Anthem.

Activities of Department of Zoology

One Day Workshop on Great Backyard Bird Count

The Great Backyard Bird Count, an annual bird counting event that engages birdwatchers of all ages to create a real-time snapshot of bird populations across the globe, is organized by Cornell University USA in association with Bird Count India every year for four days in the month of February. This year it was organized from 16-19 February, 2024. These annual snapshots of bird population help in answering the variety of questions, including how birds are distributed across country, their migration & how they are affected by changes in habitat, weather etc. It also helps in assessing the population and distribution changes from year to year.

Faculty and students of department of Zoology of RKMV in association with Eco Club of the college also participated in this worldwide ornithological activity. The Department organized a one day workshop on Campus Bird Count 2024 on 17th February, 2024 to train the staff and students as citizen scientists.

The Campus Bird Count is a sub-event of the larger GBBC. It is a coordinated effort to document the birdlife in multiple campuses across India. By campus we mean campuses of educational and training institutions, Govt. institutions, and research institutions etc.

In this workshop the Convener of Eco Club and HOD of Zoology department Ms. Kartik S.M. Chauhan presented a power point presentation about the GBBC event. She explained and gave hands on training to the students about the eBird and Merlin mobileapps and methods of observing and identifying birds by using these apps. She also gave a deep insight into the formation and uploading of the eBird checklists on and off campus. Principal Dr. Anurita Saxena was the chief guest for the day. She shared her experiences with avid birders and expressed interest in birding. Mr. Rajesh Kumar Azad, Ms. Kavita Dhiman & Dr. Meena Kumari assisted in the conducting the workshop. The workshop was followed by a bird walk in the surrounding area of college which was flagged off by the chief guest Dr. Anurita Saxena. This bird walk was accompanied by Ms. Kartik S.M. Chauhan, Mr. Rajesh Kumar Azad, Ms.

Kavita Dhiman and Dr. MeenaSankhyan. During this bird walk students and faculty observe and reported number of birds and uploaded 31eBird checklists.
